Kings Furlong choir have the X-Factor

AROUND 100 schoolchildren took part in Basingstoke's version of the X-Factor on Sunday at Aldworth School.

Youngsters from 10 schools in the area competed for the crown by showcasing their singing, dancing and musical skills.

But the title of X-Factor winner went to the Kings Furlong Junior School Choir for their 'hope and friendship' themed musical performance.

Each of the youngsters were presented with medals by the borough's mayor Anne Court, with all of the funds raised from the event going to Basingstoke Multicultural Forum (BMF), Inspiro and The Ark Cancer Charity.

BMF spokesperson Toju Ogbe said: "We are very pleased with the turnout and support from Basingstoke residents.

"It shows that when a community works together, great things happen."

BASINGSTOKE MANSION TO BREAK SALE RECORD

A MANSION to the south of Basingstoke is set to become the most expensive country estate to ever be sold publicly in the UK.

Situated to the east of the A339, the Hackwood Park estate has been put on the property market with a starting price of £65million.

The Grade II listed mansion has 24 bedrooms and 20 bathrooms alongside 260-acres of grounds, with the site so exclusive that potential buyers have to provide evidence of their "financial standing" before being considered.

Hackwood Park's asking price is more than double that of the £30m price tag for the next expensive country home on the market at Woolmers Park in Hertfordshire – the former home of the Queen's grandparents.

The identity of the current owner of the luxury property is unknown, with selling agents Savills and Sotheby's Realty requiring prospective buyers to sign a confidentiality agreement before arranging a viewing.

A description of the site reads: "It is skilfully designed for a life with service, having numerous staircases and ancillary rooms to allow staff to discreetly pass between family and entertaining areas.

"The botanical gardens and grounds hold as much historic interest as the house and have a rich botanical and architectural story to tell.

"The park, with medieval origins, forms part of an impressive and natural landscape fit for a house of this stature."

Savills property agent Crispin Holborow added: "Hackwood Park has been restored to its 19th century grandeur complete with original detailing and craftsmanship."

He continued: "Whilst infinitely beautiful and grand it readily fulfils its function as a home for entertaining."

The mansion was built in 1680 and also includes a Grade II listed stable and coachhouse, a deer park, four cottages and Grade I listed ancient woodland in the grounds.

Hackwood House was last sold for £14.5m at some point between 1999 and 2003, according to Land Registry documents, with Lady Camrose the last occupant of the property before her death in 1997.

Bradley beats injury in marathon effort

TADLEY truck driver Bradley Rogers is no stranger to setting off on long trips behind the wheel.

The prospect of completing 26 and a bit miles on foot is one that he is not so well accustomed to, however.

Add a torn calf muscle to the equation and it's fair to say that the dad of three had a tough baptism of fire as he took on his very first marathon on the streets of the capital on Sunday.

But despite admitting to feeling "like death" towards the end, Bradley managed to cross the line at the end of the London Marathon in a time of four hours and 36 minutes to fulfil a life long ambition.

He said: "I used to be nearly 20 stone around six or seven years ago and looked like Peter Griffin from Family Guy, so I never thought I would be able to do anything like this."

"Running 26 miles is not a natural thing, you should have to catch a train, so I feel like a broken man now."

"But it was amazing and is something off my bucket list now, so I'm buzzing."

Bradley ran the marathon in aid of stillbirth and neonatal death charity Sands, an organisation close to his family's heart.

Wife Jessica works as a bereavement midwife at Basingstoke hospital, and was quick to express her pride in her husband for putting himself through the pain for the cause.

She said: "It is such an important charity that often doesn't get as much support as it should do."

"What those parents go through, I wouldn't wish on my worst enemy."

"Even though Bradley was injured, he never once considered pulling out."

"He has such a determination and strength to carry on and I'm so proud of him."

Bradley added: "I felt like death towards the end, but it was definitely worth all the pain."

"As a father, I couldn't even imagine what these people must go through."

"The way people were helping each other in the race was amazing and has given me faith in human kind."

"And the beer I had when I crossed the line was the best I've ever had!"

Driver killed after hitting deer on A33

A WOMAN has died in a car crash after swerving to avoid a deer on the A33 near Micheldever.

The unnamed driver's Peugeot clipped the animal and collided with a tree at around 6.25am on Monday morning.

A rapid response vehicle and ambulance were called to the scene shortly afterwards, but were unable to revive the woman, who was pronounced dead at the scene.

Police are not yet in a position to identify the victim, although her next of kin have been informed.

The stretch of road was closed for several hours while Hampshire Constabulary officers attended to carry out their investigation.

A police spokesperson said: "Police are now in a position to confirm that the driver involved in the road traffic collision near Micheldever this morning has died."

"Officers were called to reports of a car which was in collision with a tree on the A33 near Micheldever, shortly after 6.30am."

"Sadly, the female driver of the Peugeot died at the scene."

The spokesperson confirmed that no-one else was involved in the incident.

South Central Ambulance Service (SCAS) media and communications manager, David Gallagher, added: "We were called to the scene at 6.28am for a single car road traffic collision."

"The vehicle had hit a deer and then crashed into a tree."

He added: "A rapid response vehicle and ambulance were sent, but unfortunately the woman was announced dead at the scene."

Running total

SUTTON SCOTNEY: Seventeen different fundraisers ran for Sutton Scotney-based children's hospice Naomi House at the London Marathon on Sunday.

"Team Naomi" has raised £22,000 for both Naomi House and Jackspace children's hospices by joining the crowd of 38,000 runners at the weekend.

This figure is enough to fund six months of nursing care, provide 77 hydrotherapy sessions, or provide a long weekend stay at Naomi House for 11 children with life limiting or life threatening conditions.

Events assistant Natalie Down said: "It was a great day and the atmosphere was incredible."

"It was fantastic to see some of our runners at the halfway point to cheer them on."

"They have all worked so hard and have made a huge difference in helping us to provide vital care and support to life-limited and life-threatened children, young people and their families."

Cycleway plans

BASINGSTOKE: A Hampshire County Council public consultation on proposals to improve cycling facilities along Norn Hill is due to finish tomorrow.

The plans would also see the Norn Hill cycleway connect up existing cycle routes on the A339 Ringway and to Basing View.

The proposals, which have been written up alongside Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council, would provide better connections from Chineham, Popley and Norden to the town centre.

And the scheme would also look to provide a safer and more desirable pedestrian and cycle route for local people.

To view the plans, visit hants.gov.uk/transport-schemes-index/transport-schemes-basingstoke/norn-hill-cycleway.htm.

Cyclist returns after mammoth world trip

A BASINGSTOKE man has finally arrived back on home shores following a 22-month world cycling challenge.

Bookshop worker Dan Dispain decided in April 2014 that he wanted to see more of the world on his bicycle – setting off on a 20,000-mile trip across three continents two months later.

He pedalled his way through America, fought the bitterly cold mountainous region of Kyrgyzstan in central Asia, and saw the lights of Tokyo amongst the 28 countries he visited in the almost two-year journey.

And the 40-year-old was greeted to rapturous applause from family and friends on Saturday after returning home for the first time since June 13, 2014.

He said: "I always wanted to travel the world and after reading some amazing stories about

By Loughlan Campbell

it I decided to just go for it.

"I had no clue what lay in store for me when I set off. People would just come up to you, no matter where you were and offer you help and food.

"As a cyclist, you just get such a different feel of the countries you're visiting than if you were in a car. You see every odd town, visit the people and take in their culture on a more personal level, it's just amazing."

Dan began his journey with a cycle down to London before getting the ferry over to Amsterdam, where he proceeded to cycle around Europe until September before moving through Central Asia alongside the Aral Sea into January last year.

He then moved through Thailand, Burma, Cambodia, Vietnam and China up until last August before cycling through Japan and South Korea.

He then flew to Canada from Tokyo before cycling across North America and after flying to London, made the final trip home last week.

Dan said: "I felt like a celebrity when I turned up. There were lots of banners and people celebrating.

"I said to myself that I would fight back the tears but I think I did get a bit emotional. It was just amazing to see everybody."

Dan added that he's already planning his next adventure, targeting Africa as the next destination.

He added: "It's all been a bit surreal since I got home and I'm already setting out my next plan!

"I'm probably going to work a bit before I head off."

• Dan is welcomed home by friends

Youngsters to represent UK at F1 in Schools finals

A TEAM of five pupils from an Odiham school will fly stateside later this year to represent the UK at the world finals of a global engineering competition.

Enigma UK were crowned F1 in Schools UK champions on Thursday, after their miniature Formula One car beat other creations of youngsters from across the country.

Katelyn Chelberg, 15, Ella Stevenson, 15, Nathan Bryce, 15, Sarah Matthews, 15, and Cora Morrow, 16, also won the Team Sponsorship and Marketing Award and will take part in the world finals in Texas in October.

The youngsters qualified for the nationals after being named London and South East regional winners in March, with team manager Katelyn insisting that the hard work had been worth it.

She said: "We worked really hard and really wanted this. We've put in so much work and meeting up for at least two hours every day for the last five months, so it's really paid off.

"We've put in a lot of time on developing our car, but we know there is room for improvement.

"We're very excited about the British Grand Prix on July 10, while two members will win £5,000 per year bursaries for a Mechanical Engineering degree course at UCL Engineering.

In addition to their trip to Texas, the team will also attend

Basingstoke teenager arrested for pub brawl

A BASINGSTOKE teenager has been arrested following a fight outside a pub in Thatcham.

The 17-year-old boy was arrested on Friday after being accused of playing a part in the brawl on Sunday, April 17.

A group of around five to eight people are understood to have become involved in an argument in the smoking area of The Mill in Bradley-Moore Square between 12.15am and 12.45am.

And the dispute then developed into a fight, with a 52-year-old man being knocked to the floor and losing consciousness as a result.

The unnamed victim was taken to the Royal Berkshire Hospital for medical treatment and has since been discharged.

A 44-year-old man was also admitted to the hospital after sustaining a cut to the back of his head during the incident, after he rushed to the aid of another man who was knocked to the ground during the altercation.

As well as the Basingstoke teenager, police have also arrested a 17-year-old boy, two 18-year-old men and a 19-year-old man, all from Thatcham, on suspicion of causing assault occasioning actual bodily harm (ABH).

By Christian Wilson

None of the five suspects have been named, although the group are all described as being in their late teens to mid-twenties, while one was wearing a white shirt and dark trousers.

Each of the suspects have been bailed until May 4, with police now appealing for witnesses to come forward with information.

Investigating officer PC Christopher Andrews, from Newbury Local CID, said: "I would like to speak to anyone who witnessed the incident or who has any information about what happened."

"If you have any details which could assist officers with enquiries, please contact police."

Anyone with any information is asked to contact the police non-emergency number 101.

Alternatively, residents can also call Crimestoppers charity anonymously on 0800 555111.

Scouts mark St George's Day

MORE than 1,000 youngsters from scout groups across Basingstoke and Deane took part in the annual St George's Day Parade through the town on Saturday morning.

Youngsters also marked the occasion by releasing hundreds of balloons into the sky and taking a Scouts salute in front of Basingstoke MP Maria Miller and the borough council's deputy mayor Cllr Jane Frankum.

Job loss blow as Shire leaves town

UP to 270 jobs are at risk after one of Basingstoke's biggest employers announced it would soon leave the town.

Pharmaceutical giants Shire revealed it will close its offices at Hampshire International Business Park in Chineham at the end of next year.

The company is planning to open an office for its UK commercial operations in Paddington, London, to move workers "closer to the heart of life science communities".

Shire is also proposing to move employees to its offices in Dublin over the next 18 months, meaning that the Basingstoke branch's 270 workers would have to relocate to keep their jobs.

A statement read: "The proposed move will bring the majority of commercial, R&D and key corporate roles currently based in Basingstoke closer to the heart of life science communities and resources."

"The new location will provide an excellent base from which to drive future UK commercial growth."

"Shire aims to retain the majority of existing roles, and hopes that many of the company's current employees will remain with Shire."

By Christian Wilson

The news comes as a bitter blow for Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council as it looks to entice big businesses to the borough at Basing View and beyond.

And cabinet member for finance and resources, John Izett, was quick to question the logic behind the decision, with the move to Paddington set to see total accommodation and running costs triple compared to operations in Chineham.

"Shire have been part of the fabric of Basingstoke for many years, so it's obviously not good news," said Cllr Izett.

"I really don't understand the business logic of it at all, but while I would rather have seen them stay, it is their decision."

"A lot of people will be searching for a new job because of this, and while not minimising the impact, if there's one positive of this it's that there do seem to be a lot of opportunities in the borough at the moment."

Chineham borough councillor Paul Miller admitted that the news hadn't come as a surprise to him, while he also argued that a large proportion of current employees wouldn't be able to move with the company.

He added: "The whole community has known that this was coming for some time."

"Losing jobs anywhere is going to be bad for a local community, so naturally we are disappointed."

"People aren't going to uproot their families and go to Dublin, which means there will be a number of people out of work, but we have no control over this."

• Shire will close its offices in Chineham next year

Residents have their say on recycling

MORE than 4,000 people have so far responded to a public consultation to decide the future of Hampshire's household waste recycling centres (HWRCs).

As many of 12 of the county's 24 centres could be at risk of closure as part of the Hampshire County Council consultation - which is due to end on May 25.

Basingstoke's HWRC in Wade Road is among those potentially under threat as the authority looks to cut costs in the wake of a reduction in Government funding.

Closing four sites could save the council £440,000, while £1,050,000 and £1,850,000 could be saved respectively if eight or 12 centres are closed.

Basingstoke's centre is ranked as one of the most efficient HWRCs in Hampshire and is unlikely to be closed, although Hartley Wintney Recycling Centre is ranked as one of the eight most at risk of closure.

The council is also investigating the possibility of partially closing sites and reducing opening hours in a bid to save money.

Up to £650,000 of savings could be saved from only opening 10 HWRCs over the weekend and on Mondays.

Complete the consultation at hants.gov.uk/hwrc2016.

Chainsaw stolen

TADLEY: A chainsaw was stolen after thieves broke into a parked works vehicle from a site in Ramsdell, near Tadley.

The vehicle was parked in a field in the village at the time of the incident at 3.45pm on Monday, April 18.

Eyewitnesses spotted the thieves running away from the vehicle across a field, before entering a dark coloured Volkswagen Passat estate.

Police are now urging residents to be vigilant and not leave any valuable items on show in unattended vehicles.

PCSO Nathaniel Johnson said: "I would like to ask that if you see any vehicles acting suspiciously in your area then to call 101."

"Please ensure you lock your vehicles and remove all valuable items when leaving them unattended."

Jewellery theft

HATCH WARREN: Two safes containing gold jewellery were taken during a daytime theft last week.

The valuables were taken from a family home in Exeter Close between 1pm and 3.30pm on Wednesday after thieves broke in through the front door.

Nobody was in the house when the theft took place.

Mum calls for extra brain cancer funding

AN "INCREDIBLY important first step" has been made over the fight to increase Government funding for brain tumour research, according to a Kempshott mum.

Jan Pearson was given the devastating news in 2012 that her son Tom had been diagnosed with an inoperable diffused Astrocytoma on his brain stem at the age of just 18 years old.

The problem was only discovered due to her insistence that Tom, now 21, be given a brain scan, after the family was previously told by doctors that the youngster was merely suffering from migraines.

Brain tumours kill more children and adults under the age of 40 than any other cancer, although just one per cent of national spend on cancer research is currently allocated to brain tumours.

A Government working group is now due to be put together to explore the issue following a debate in Westminster Hall last Monday, with Jan insisting that something had to be done to address the "huge imbalance" of funding.

She said: "The subject was treated with great compassion, and I came away feeling satisfied that the issue had been clearly presented and heard.

By Christian Wilson

"For me, the next part of this work is to do our best to keep in touch with this group, as these things can go on for a long time, and that is the one thing that the brain tumour family don't have.

"But this is an incredibly important first step to address this huge imbalance of funding."

The debate was triggered after an online petition set up by Maria Lester, who lost her brother Stephen Realf to the condition, gained more than 120,000 signatures.

Thankfully Tom is currently stable, although Jan admitted that she would "always wonder" whether her son's cancer would have been operable had it been spotted sooner.

"It's the news that no mother wants to hear, so it was dreadful and we were all devastated," said Jan.

"Tom is stable and doing really well, we're incredibly proud.

"It was a very long journey over a number of years to get his diagnosis, but it's so important that you catch brain tumours early."

Government funding for area specific cancers in 2014 was £230million, with only £7.7m going towards brain tumour research.

And with a report from the Government's petition committee claiming it could take up to 100 years for treatment to reach the progress made with other cancers, Basingstoke MP Maria

Miller called for action.

She said: "It would be hard to do it justice the amount of constituents I have had contact me about this debate.

"This feels like a catch 22 in that a lack of research means that there can be difficulty in having effective professional development, which leads to continued late diagnosis."

Kempshott care home gets top mark

A BASINGSTOKE care home has been handed an 'outstanding' overall grade by inspectors from a health and social care regulator.

Kempshott centre Conifers, in Kempshott Lane, was given the top mark by the Care Quality Commission following an inspection in January.

The home provides 24-hour care for six people aged 18 and over with learning difficulties and those who present challenging behaviour.

Conifers, which is run by Hampshire County Council, was graded as 'outstanding' for its effectiveness and caring standards, while it also received a 'good' mark for being safe, responsive and well-led.

The report, published on Friday, April 15, read: "Well-trained staff make frequent observations and robust assessments of children's learning and development.

"This supports the planning and delivery of high quality teaching so that all children make the best possible progress.

"Staff consistently give the highest priority to the safety of children."

It added: "Inspirational leadership demonstrates an uncompromising, successful, well-documented drive to strongly improve achievement for all children."

Miller to lead review into child harassment

BASINGSTOKE MP Maria Miller is heading an inquiry into sexual violence and harassment in schools.

A review was launched last

By Christian Wilson

week after a report containing the views of 300 school students found that the majority of incidents weren't being dealt with properly.

Children's charity Fixers conducted the research, with respondents claiming that incidents of sexual assaults or threatening behaviour were often "brushed off" by schools due to the ages of those that were involved.

And with other students claiming that it was "really common" for girls to be groped, and another revealing that she had been bullied for being a virgin, women and equalities committee chair Mrs Miller has called for a change.

She said: "It's clear from the young people we've heard from that sexual harassment and sexual violence in schools is having a profound impact on their day to day lives.

"We need to address this issue now, and stop it from blighting the lives of another generation of young people - both male and female."

An investigation last September discovered that police had recorded 5,500 sexual offences in schools across the UK over a three year period.

That included 600 different cases of rape.

Around 29 per cent of girls aged 16 to 18 quizzed in a 2010 YouGov poll were also found to have experienced unwanted sexual touching while at school.

Basingstoke MP Mrs Miller last month called for new sex education classes to be made compulsory in schools in a bid to stop pupils as young as 12 and 13 from "sexting".

And with the report pointing to increasing pressure both at school and online among youngsters to have underage sexual relations, the inquiry will look to emphasise this point.

Mrs Miller added: "We're asking teachers, students, parents, youth organisations and anyone else with an interest in this subject to share their knowledge and experience with us.

"We'll use this evidence to find the most effective measures to reduce levels of sexual harassment and sexual violence in schools."

Merger for two NHS surgeries

NHS surgeries in Hook and Hartley Wintney have been merged as part of a new partnership.

Hook Surgery in Reading Road and Hartley Wintney Surgery in Chapter Terrace have worked closely together to provide medical care since 1920.

But the partnership between the two sites will now be even closer as they combine under the new title Whitewater Health.

The new name was chosen by North Hampshire Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) who regulate the service, with the title symbolising the River Whitewater, which runs between the two surgeries.

Acting practice manager Becie van Oostrum said: "Over recent years we have been trying to improve the services we offer to patients by working more closely together and using our resources more efficiently.

"The surgeries now share a phone system to ensure all calls are answered in a timely manner, and the duty team alternates between Hook and Hartley Wintney surgeries, with our nurses also working across both.

"Patients will continue to be registered at their local surgery but may at times access services at the other surgery.

"Whitewater Health will continue to provide all the care and service currently received and we hope this new name reflects the holistic and proactive healthcare we aim to provide."

Criticism over Local Plan

BASINGSTOKE'S council has been accused of "needlessly delaying" the introduction of the borough's new housing plan. By Christian Wilson

Basingstoke and Deane.

That decision was made following a six-week public examination into the council's draft Local Plan, and after the proposed yearly housing figure was increased by 92 by the inspector in December 2014.

But with the previous Local Plan coming to an end at the start of 2011, and the borough therefore having no safeguards against development as a result, it has been argued that residents have been made to pay "a heavy price".

The leader of Basingstoke's Liberal Democrats group, Gavin James, said: "It is good news that the inspector's final report has concluded that the plan is 'sound', subject to a number of modifications.

"However, residents have paid a heavy price for the plan being over five years late.

"The Local Plan should have been in place in January 2011 when the last one ran out, not sometime in 2016.

"Needless delay has cost the taxpayer hundreds of thousands of pounds in lost planning appeals, increased expense, reduced contributions from developers and the wrong development in the wrong places at the wrong time."

Councillors will debate the Local Plan and decide whether to put it in place at a full meeting of Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council on May 26.

And the leader of the authority, Clive Sanders, expressed his "sincere hope" that his fellow members would vote in favour of the long overdue document.

He said: "Not having a plan in place to protect against overdevelopment has always been an issue for this council.

"It's what we've been working towards for a long time to get that problem resolved, so to have one is a very good step forward for the whole borough."

But Cllr James feels that dithering within the council over the details of the proposed 3,500-home development at Manydown has led to a decision not being made sooner.

He added: "Make no mistake about it, Conservative opposition to Manydown and promotion of ludicrously low housing numbers has been a disaster for the borough."

Councillor retiring after 13 years

A LONG-SERVING member of the borough council's cabinet is due to retire next month.

Kingsclere councillor Cathy Osselson will call it a day after 13 years at the authority following the borough council elections on May 5.

And the cabinet member for partnerships admitted that she was looking forward to taking a well-earned break and spending more time with her five grandchildren.

She said: "I've thoroughly enjoyed my time at the council and have completed everything I wanted to.

"But I feel like I've done my bit for prosperity and now it's time to give some new blood a chance.

"I knew it was time to finish, and now I'm looking forward to relaxing and spending some time with my grandchildren."

Conservative candidate Ken Rhatigan, Labour's John Rodway and Roger Ward from the Liberal Democrats will contest Cllr Osselson's vacant seat.

And speaking at a meeting of Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council's cabinet earlier this month, council leader Clive Sanders was quick to thank the outgoing councillor.

He said: "It really has been wonderful to have you with us in the cabinet over the last few years, and see your total commitment to the cause.

Cllr Sanders added: "So on behalf of all the cabinets that you have served with over the last few years and from the council as a whole, I want to thank you for everything that you've done."

WIN tickets to see Shakespeare in Ten Acts at the British Library

MARK 400 years of Shakespeare with Shakespeare in Ten Acts at the British Library. We're offering Oxfordshire Guardian readers the chance to win 1 of 10 pairs of tickets to this landmark exhibition.

Journey through 400 years of history – from the first productions of Hamlet and The Tempest – to understand how Shakespeare's plays have been transformed for new generations of theatre-goers. Imagine how audiences reacted to ground-breaking moments like the first stage appearance by a female actor in 1660 and the first British performance of Othello by a black actor in 1825.

Experience the glamour of Vivien Leigh's Lady Macbeth costume, the surprising circus prop from Peter

Closing date: Friday, May 20.

Brook's radical 1970s A Midsummer Night's Dream, and the stunning detail of the award-winning costumes from Twelfth Night starring Mark Rylance, as performed at Shakespeare's Globe.

Shakespeare in Ten Acts showcases over 200 unique and rare items such as the only surviving play-script in Shakespeare's hand, an authentic Shakespeare signature, the earliest printed edition of Hamlet from 1603 and Shakespeare's First Folio. This landmark exhibition runs until 6 September 2016.

For more information and to book tickets, visit www.bl.uk/shakespeare-exhibition

We have 10 pairs of tickets to give away and to be in with a chance of winning 1 all you have to do is answer this simple question:

Q: When was the earliest edition of Hamlet printed?

Ts&Cs: Prize is 1 of 10 pairs of tickets to see Shakespeare in Ten Acts at the British Library, valid until Tue 6 Sep 2016. Subject to availability. Exclusions apply. Travel costs are not included in the competition prize. If a winner does not claim their prize within 10 days, then their prize will be forfeited and another winner selected in their place.

Lord Lieutenant opens Dunster House's new Basingstoke branch

DUNSTER House Ltd, the UK's leading timber Garden Buildings Company, welcomed Her Majesty's Lord Lieutenant Nigel Atkinson to the grand opening of their Basingstoke branch this weekend.

Welcomed by company founders Christopher and Pamela Murphy, along with their son Director Andrew Murphy, the Lord Lieutenant was taken on a guided tour of the brand new offices on Hampshire Industrial Business Park before being shown around the vast range of Garden Buildings on display in their newly designed gardens including the brand new Chunky Offices. Whilst being shown around the branch, the Lord Lieutenant heard all about Dunster Houses growing Humanitarian range which has recently secured a contract with leading charity Oxfam to supply superstructures, squatting plates and raised latrines for the next two years.

In a speech given before the formal cutting of the ribbon and official opening of the branch, the Lord Lieutenant expressed how impressed he was with the new branch which has created 40 new job opportunities within the local area; "Whilst no two family businesses are the same, I am pleased to hear this family business has been going for so long and hope that the second generation will successfully take over this Company. Having been shown around the garden, I am very impressed with the quality of the products and the innovation and creation of each new product. For me, this has been a great day and I have learned a huge amount."

"Whilst no two family businesses are the same, I am pleased to hear this family business has been going for so long and hope that the second generation will successfully take over this Company."

1967 - 1972, Lord Lieutenant Atkinson was very impressed to hear that Dunster House received the Defence Employer Recognition Scheme Silver Award earlier this year. This award recognises businesses who give their continued support to the Defence and Armed Forces community including the Reserves, Service leavers, Veterans and their families. Five of the six branch managers currently under our employment are ex Non-Commissioned Officers with at least five more employed in other roles. Speaking at the launch, Lord Lieutenant Atkinson said "Being an ex serviceman myself, I am very pleased with Dunster House who support and deal with the Armed Forces"

Director Andrew Murphy was impressed with how well the launch went and reflected on how far the Company have come since opening their first Garden Buildings branch and display garden 15 years ago after expanding from windows and doors; "Being here today and seeing our stunning Basingstoke branch reminds me of our first display garden and how fortunate we've been to see our fifth branch opening today, with plans to open our sixth later this year. We always aim to decorate our gardens in the same high quality as our very first. It has taken a lot of hard work, time and commitment but I am very pleased with the end result."

Expect an evening of laughs

WHAT happens when you put four completely different comedians on the same tour? You get an evening full of all laughs!

So expect to leave The Haymarket with sore sides when The All-Star Stand-Up Tour arrives at the Churchill Way venue on Thursday, May 5.

Funny men Jarred Christmas, Gary Delaney, Pete Firman and Sean Hughes come to Basingstoke, each with a completely different style of comedy.

And with more people watching comedy on the internet and on TV, the four friends insisted that seeing a live gig is better than a recording.

"It is a live performance, that's the best possible way to experience it," Pete said.

"Being in the room when it's happening with other people is what it's all about."

Sean added: "Anything can happen on the night, it's unpredictable, that's what it's all about."

"I can go out and do things I have no intention of doing - you just can't do that on TV."

The six week tour across the country will see the four comics visit a number of theatres across the country.

And of course, the comics have an incentive - to make their audiences

By James Richings

laugh with whatever anecdotes, witty puns or immature punch lines they can think of.

"I had a bad gig at a pub in Wales," Jarred said.

"Two guys who were banned from all the pubs in town snuck in, they heckled me and I put them down."

"They got angry, tried to attack me, barman intervened, bad guy swung a punch at the barman, missed, hit a girl at the next table."

"Suddenly it was all on like a cowboy film."

"About 15 blokes trying to get rid of these two bad guys and the police were called."

"Turns out they were part of a local gang and I had to have a police escort out of town."

"That was pretty bad."

Gary added: "Lots of people have the base quality of being witty and that's not so rare."

"But learning how to harness it? That is very rare indeed."

"It takes many years of hard work and focus to get any good."

The show is suitable for anyone over the age of 16, with tickets costing £21.

It starts at 7.45pm.

Style a masterpiece with Mister Maker

ARTS and crafts TV programme Mister Maker will be brought to life on stage for three shows at The Anvil on Saturday, May 7 and Sunday, May 8.

'Mister Maker Live' will give children a chance to let their imagination go wild and help produce a piece of art. CBeebies' Mister Maker himself, Phil Gallagher, will be guiding youngsters through the process with entertaining sketches as children help make suggestions to create the bigger picture.

Phil told the Observer: "This is an arts and crafts programme where we wanted to put a lot of singing and dancing in."

"I really want to make it enjoyable for everyone because CBeebies is a wonderful channel, and with lots of audience participation where they can go onto the stage and be part of the show, it's good fun if you're one, 41 or 101."

"There is also a massive screen on stage where we encourage people to shout out and get involved, so we have a plan to stick to."

Mister Maker aired on CBeebies

By James Richings

"It's really important to me to be practising all kinds of children's shows and I'm in a lot of pantomimes, so all ages of the audience should like the show," Phil said.

"Expect the unexpected."

Phil added: "I love my job. I really, really love it."

"I love seeing the kids' faces light up when the shapes run out, and seeing the parents enjoying themselves as well."

"I can honestly say I am privileged, lucky and proud."

The shows will start at 10am, 1pm and 4pm.

She's a native New Yorker with a fondness for old-time music and vintage clothes, who's seen the world and absorbed its musical influences: country and jazz, blues

A great family day out at Legoland Windsor Resort

WE visited Legoland this weekend to celebrate my daughters 5th birthday and we had a great day.

The sun was shining and the queues for rides weren't too bad at all! We haven't been to Legoland for a few years so we had a fun-packed day and still didn't manage to get around all of the rides. The rides were brilliant and not too scary for the kids or myself (ages 5, 7 and 36)!

The highlights for us were 'The Lego Movie 4D experience' (probably one of the best 4D shows we've seen and interactive with the audience) the SQUID surfers and the Atlantis. I have always heard great things about the 'Atlantis' ride however it was better than I imagined and the kids thought it was amazing, how close they could get to the fish and sharks whilst trying to spot all of the Lego people and objects in the water. The children also loved the 'Vikings River Splash' and the 'Raft Racers' even though we ended up soaking - a change of clothes would be recommended for some of the rides or make use of the family size dryers!

Overall we were impressed by how clean and child friendly Legoland is. They seem to employ a huge team of workers just to ensure you have a good day and everyone we met was super friendly.

Our only disappointment was we didn't get to go on all of the rides, despite spending 9 hours there! Next time I think we will need to make a weekend of it by staying at the Lego Hotel on site to ensure we get around the whole park. A highly recommended day out for all of the family.

BEN POOLE AND STEVIE NIMMO

This duo pistol tour features two of the most sizzling soloists on the blues circuit. One evening, two shows. Ben Poole kicks things off with his no punches pulled, "in-ner-face" rock attack. Amongst the most standout blues guitarists to have emerged in the last few years Ben has played with legendary blues artists (and his own personal idols) Jeff Beck, Gary Moore and John Mayall, to name just three. Stevie Nimmo has 20 years of touring all over the world under his belt with The Nimmo Brothers, alongside (you guessed it) his brother Alan. Glasgow born and raised, Stevie is family taught. After a cancer diagnosis in 2009, the resulting surgery led to the loss of Stevie's voice for two years. Not one to be parted from his craft, Stevie spent this period songwriting - which came together as his first solo album "The Wynds of Life". Due to his health, Stevie has had to cut back on his touring schedule, so this is a rare chance to experience the feeling to his gritty Americana blues.

The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Kia has got some soul

THE Kia Sportage is rapidly becoming a household name. The Korean firm sold 90,000 cars of the popular third-generation since its introduction in 2010, but it's fair to say it was beginning to feel its age.

So with the fourth version of the family-focused SUV, the car has been revamped to the driver's needs.

By James Richings

The new Sportage offers a hugely improved driving experience and we were particularly impressed with the blend of ride comfort and handling (major chassis revisions and a new steering system help here), while the engine choices offer improved efficiency for those all-important lower running costs.

There are four motors on offer – two petrols and two diesels – along with six-speed manual, six-speed automatic and seven-speed twin-clutch automatic gearboxes.

Kia has also strived to make the Sportage a well equipped car.

As ever with Kia, there's a huge amount of equipment built into most trims. If we're being brutal we'd say that one specification is a little parsimonious, but moving up to two nets you a huge amount of useful kit including a touchscreen sat-nav, reversing camera, cruise control, parking sensors, DAB radio, Bluetooth connectivity and automatic lights and wipers.

It also comes with automatic parking, a powered tailgate, heated and ventilated front seats, a heated steering wheel and wireless smartphone charging – but only if your device supports it.

Every Kia also gets the firm's seven-year, 100,000-mile warranty. Not only is this transferable to a second owner if you choose to sell the car, but if you buy a used one less than 18 months old from an official Kia dealer, the seven-year warranty period is reset.

But that isn't an indication of unreliability, as Kia has built a fantastic reputation for quality over recent years and the new Sportage feels better in this respect than any previous car from the company.

Now the big question: should you buy one?

There are plenty of reasons to buy, or indeed lease, a new Sportage. Low CO2 emissions mean it won't cost the earth to tax, there's a long warranty, you get well-equipped trims, and to cap it all, it drives well too.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Three players released as Town ready new era

BASINGSTOKE Town's transition towards becoming a full-time team has begun after the club confirmed the release of three players on Tuesday. Midfielders Shaun McAuley and Glen Southam and forward Lloyd Macklin have left club with immediate effect as part of the new philosophy to promote youth.

Three of last year's play-off heroes Chris Flood, Nathan Smart and Jay Gasson last week announced on social media that they would be leaving the club in the summer due to work commitments.

And the exit of a further three senior players this week has underlined manager Terry Brown's intention to offer under 21 players full-time contracts as the Dragons look to bounce straight back up to the National League South.

"The philosophy of the club is to look at our own academy players first and then to supplement the squad with the most talented young players who have been released from local Premier League, Championship and Football League clubs," said Brown.

"I have been watching under-21 games for the last six months, and several players I have seen will be looking for full-time contracts in the summer.

"What we can offer them is a unique opportunity to train full time under first class coaches, in a supportive disciplined environment that will help them grow both on and off the field.

"I cannot emphasise enough that this project will be run in conjunction with Jason Bristow at the academy, and between us we will ensure that every player that pulls on our blue shirt realises how lucky he is to represent Basingstoke Town."

The Dragons have also announced a new partnership with Queens Park Rangers, which will see coaching staff from the club take training sessions.

Regular 'Talent ID' days are also planned as part of the partnership to discover young local talent to play for Basingstoke, with the potential of joining QPR further down the line.

Youth department manager Adam Clark said: "This is great news for the football club [and] the players will see great reward from having such a partnership in place.

"The aim of the Junior Premier League setup we have in place at the club is to provide experiences for the players that they will not normally get in grass roots football.

"Hopefully we will see some local players make the step up to academy football."

Third race meeting looms for Collard

RICKY Collard will look to break his winning duck this weekend when he returns to British Racing Drivers' Club (BRDC) Formula 3 action.

Despite not yet winning a race, the Hook-based racer has had a storming start to his career in the class, having moved to Carlin from MSA Formula Championship in the summer.

Collard is currently second in the overall standings after two rounds of races on 108 points heading into this weekend's meet at Rockingham in Northamptonshire.

The 19-year-old had an underwhelming start to the season at Snetterton in Norfolk, failing to finish one race, and then crossing the line in fifth and eighth in the others.

But last year's MSA runner-up improved in the next round at Brands Hatch GP to back up a strong qualifying session by placing second twice and finishing fourth to claim a haul of 76 points.

Collard will hope to close the gap on championship leader Toby Sowery at Rockingham, with qualifying set to take place on Saturday, and racing the following day.

Stokes stars with the ball in opener

• Mitch Stokes

BASINGSTOKE and North Hants CC comfortably won their first match of the season on Sunday.

The Bountymen toppled Totton and Eling by 164 runs on the road to move to the next round of the ECB National Club Championship Cup.

New club captain Mitch Stokes proved to be the match winner as he claimed impressive figures of 7-24 as the hosts were bowled out for just 113 at Southern Gardens.

Basingstoke won the toss and chose to bat first, but quickly saw opener Chris Froud and vice captain Christopher Oliver exit for just 13 and six runs respectively.

But after fourth batsman Stokes was bowled by Dominic Colville (2-54), Craig Williamson arrived at the crease to fire 88 runs from 80 balls to help fire his side to 277-9, with Chris Jolley adding 62 to the cause.

Stokes dented Totton's hopes of bettering that score by running out opener Jack Mellett, with Chris Jolley and Ashley Neal then removing Tom Rouse (4) and Nigel Bungay (24).

And the all rounder then devastated the rest of the host's batting order by claiming seven consecutive wickets to win the game at a canter.

Basingstoke 1sts are next in action on Saturday, when they will play the 2nds in a friendly taking place at May's Bounty.

Sport Bites

First win for RFC

RUGBY: Basingstoke RFC chose their 22nd and final match of the London 2 South West season to pick up their first win of the campaign.

Relegated Basingstoke claimed a 35-19 win over second bottom Weybridge Vandals to finally move them off the mark.

It will give them some hope of bouncing straight back up from the London 3 South West next year.

New champions

FOOTBALL: Basingstoke Town Ladies were finally crowned Southern Region Women's Football League (SRFWL) Premier Division champions on Tuesday night.

"Stoke played their final league match of the season a few weeks ago, having more or less wrapped up the title.

Only third-placed Marlow were mathematically still able to catch them heading into this week, as they played the first of their four games in hand.

But Marlow could only manage a 1-1 draw at Bracknell Town, meaning that Basingstoke were crowned champions.

Trophy tour

ICE HOCKEY: Basingstoke Bison fans will have the chance to get their hands on the English Premier League (EPL) trophy tomorrow.

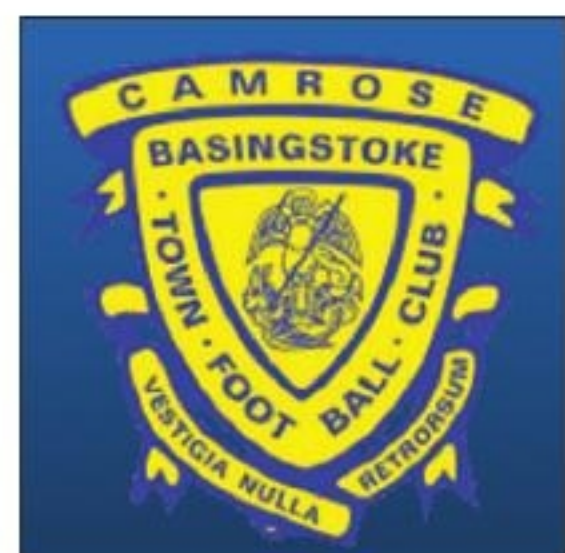

Supporters will be able to take a picture with the trophy from 7.30pm at the Basingstoke Arena Rink Bar.

Hartley heroics

FOOTBALL: Hartley Wintney confirmed themselves as Combined Counties League Premier Division on Tuesday night.

The Row went into the match on the back of a massive 10-0 victory over Raynes Park Vale on Saturday.

And knowing they needed one more win to clinch the title, Hartley duly dispatched Westfield 2-0 through goals by Steven Duff and Ross Cook to win the league.

YOUNGSTERS SHINE AS DRAGONS SLAY TRURO

BASINGSTOKE Town picked up a rare victory on Saturday as they played their last home game of the season.

The relegated Dragons tore the form book to pieces as they picked up a superb 2-0 win over fourth-placed Truro City.

Terry Brown's side went into the tie with nothing to play for other than pride after a woeful season in the National League South.

But goals from Simon Dunn and Manny Williams, both probably playing their last games at the Camrose following the club's decision to turn full-time this week, sealed a surprise win.

Town boss Brown said ahead of the game that he would give several players from the club's academy a run out as part of the new blueprint to build a team around youngsters next term.

And he was good to his word, as academy players Aaron Jarvis and George Hallahan were handed first starts for the club, while George Bennett also came off the bench in the second half.

The Dragons faithful were given a look into the future after just six minutes as Jarvis and Hallahan combined well to feed Simon Dunn at the edge of the area.

And the long-serving mid-

By Christian Wilson

fielder made the most of the space to curl the ball into the corner from 18 yards and give Basingstoke the lead.

Hallahan then flashed an effort just wide soon after, before Town were left with hearts in mouths on 20 minutes as a Truro corner flashed dangerously across the six yard box.

And Basingstoke's young forward was involved again three minutes before half-time as he fired an effort inches wide, following good work from Jarvis.

Dragons' player of the year Louie Soares was the next to come close on the hour mark, but a Truro player closed down his shot when he looked set to score.

Captain David Rae was lucky not to give away a penalty on 81 minutes, after the ball appeared to pop up and hit his hand.

But nothing was given, and Town made the most of the decision in the seventh minute of injury time to double their advantage as Williams dinked the ball home after being played in by Bennett.

Basingstoke will hope to finish the season in style next Saturday when they travel to face Chelmsford City.
